

Review for Tracery Professional Builders, Inc.

modulus

Relationship: Colleague

As an architectural firm that has done a great deal of work in the Bay Area over the last decade, we've had many opportunities to work with a wide range of contractors over a wide range of project sizes and types, and have found a builder quite as thoughtful, dedicated and professional as Mark Macdonald and his team at Tracery Builders.

Their attention to detail, craftsmanship, and overall project success is without compare. As well, their constant consideration of the quality of the final product in tandem with the owner's budget and timeline goals are the reason we find ourselves gravitating towards Tracery Builders whenever given the opportunity.

We recommend them without hesitation as we know Tracery will take care of our clients as well as we take care of them.

That level of care and commitment inevitably leads to a successful project every time.

 Like April 22, 2016